Administration: admin / admin

Network functions

Not enough entries? You dont want to present your visitors with an empty business directory? No problem! With the built-in network functions, you can register your business directory with a "business network" and receive new entries from there regularly.

Of course, you alone determine which entries are published in your business directory and which you reject!

Content editor

The content editor is a content management system with which you can create additional pages without changing the original software files. You can position the corresponding links and content in 2 different positions:

- In the header area
- In the footer area

Functions:

- Create an unlimited number of additional pages (start page)
- Selection of the position of the links to the additional pages
- HTML code allowed (via HTML editor)
- Lock, unlock, edit entries
- Various font styles for the links
- External links

Functions for visitors

- TOP gallery & gallery
- Google Map
- Tip banner (more flexible, customizable in the admin area)
- Clear listing of all entries (categories, new entries, TOP list)
- Extensive information on the entries on the detail page including Google map, rating function, opening times, integration of videos

- Convenient scrolling and sorting functions
- Top lists, new entries, quick search and much more...

Members area

- Edit & edit entry
- Contact inquiries (here you will find all inquiries that were created via the contact form of the created entry, requirement, this is active for the account type!)
- Watch list (overview of all saved company entries)

Explanation of the CVS import / export system:

With the import / export system, you can save your business directory data directly from the administration as a backup copy or exchange it between several business directories.

This is particularly interesting if you operate several business directories. You can exchange the entries in the activated or not activated state, with or without branches between various branch directories.

You can:

- Back up and write back e-mail addresses or import them into other business directories.
- Save and write back categories / branches or import them into other business directories.
- Save and write back entries or import them into other business directories.

Export and import formats:

- Text file (.txt) or CSV file (.csv)
- With comma, semicolon or colon separation of the data fields

Data export:

- Data of your newsletter subscribers
- Branch entries - with various options:
 - all entries
 - only entries from certain categories
 - only activated entries
 - only entries that have not yet been activated
 - with or without pre-selected categories / sectors
- Creating backup copies of entries or newsletter subscribers

Data import:

- Data of your newsletter subscribers

- Branch entries - Options:
- Comma or semicolon separated fields, Excel compatible
- only entries from certain categories activated / not activated
- only activated entries
- only entries that have not yet been activated
- Importing a backup copy of the entries or newsletter subscribers, e.g. after reinstallation.

Search engine optimization (SEO)

Our scripts completely dispense with so-called sessions and generate search engine-friendly links even without "mod_rewrite", so, for example, the names of the industries and categories are included in the link.

There is no "click count" - only visits to the detail pages are counted.

The entries are optimally indexed on Google [™] and your own PAGE-RANK [™] is easily passed on to registered pages (PR inheritance).

Security

The script offers the greatest possible protection against SPAM entries and SQL injection attacks, passwords are saved as MD5 hashes.

The administration is independent of the other files of the script and can be renamed or separated from the rest of the script and called e.g. via a subdomain.
